

The Proflush Hi Lift System

Condensation Removal System

- The Proflush Hi Lift is designed to collect condensation from air conditioning units, refrigeration units, gas boilers etc, and operates when the float rises to discharge to a head of 12 metres (38ft).
- The deck of the pump is of clear plastic for quick and easy internal inspection and the plastic casing is unobtrusive and manufactured with a high back for good vertical support.
- It is built with two floats; one to operate the pump and the other has a pre-wired safety switch incorporated into the circuit to prevent water leaks from sensitive Installations if necessary.
- Both the 1.0 Litre and 2 Litre pumps are fitted with a faster motor than the Hi Flow models to give 11Ltr/hr discharge.

Service Guide

- Inspect pump head regularly and change the pump head tube every 12 months or more frequently if required.
- To remove pump head, make sure the roller assembly is vertical.
- Remove transparent cover and fit replacement head tube.
- The addition of a smear of silicon grease will ease the refitting of the lid, reducing potential friction noise.

Installation notes

- This pump is designed to sit on it's base or be fitted on a vertical surface.
- Ensure that there are no kinks or trapped sections in the piping, which must have an I/D of ¼" (6mm) and an O/D of 3/8" (10mm).
- Fix the pipe with cable ties along it's run to drain and secure to the pump outlet with jubilee clip.
